PROCEEDS BENEFIT THOSE AFFECTED BY HUNTINGTON'S DISEASE

Founded in 2009, HD Reach is a North Carolina-based, “boots on the ground” nonprofit working to improve the care and quality of life of those affected by Huntington’s disease throughout the state. HD Reach provides connections to local services, care management, family support, and education.

Huntington’s Disease affects people in unique ways—frequently this disease is hard on families because of occupational, financial, social, and emotional consequences that can span generations. HD can have a profound impact on as many as three key areas: cognition, movement, and mood.

HD Reach provides people with HD valuable resources and information as well as support for people with the disease and their friends and family members too.
